

Arcane RPG

Sale & Ownership Transfer

“I apologize for my absence as of late and the way I have been neglecting Arcane and its further development. I so badly wanted to make this work, but I have to be transparent about where my head is at currently.

A good friend helped me realize that sometimes we think we know what we want, we put the time and effort into doing that thing we think we want, only to realize it wasn't going to complete the puzzle that our brain is seeking to finish.

I really missed writing in the equine communities, I thought through creating Arcane the muse and writing would come back to me as easily as it used to. I tried to force it, but the more force I created for myself the more disconnected I felt. I have started branching out and my heart is pulling me to write other things. My heart just isn't in it anymore. It's been hard for me to admit that I feel extremely guilty and shameful, part of me feels like I am letting Arcane down.

Through this trial and error, I have branched out into other communities and genres and my priorities and attentions have shifted. I've found the feelings I had been missing and craving so much in writing humans and humanoids. With this newfound muse, I began working on a humanoid RPG, and I struggled with what to do next because it finally felt like the missing piece of the puzzle & everything I had wanted, but it was tearing me apart knowing while I plugged away with this new project, Arcane was left collecting dust.

The same friend offered another piece of advice. “If you don't want it, give it away to someone who does.”

I would love to transfer Arcane's ownership to someone who is able to give it the love and attention it deserves. If you have interest in this, please reach out via DM and we can discuss the details. Arcane has truly unlimited potential to be whatever anyone makes it. It is my hope that Arcane, under new ownership, could be given the love and potential it deserves.

I love everyone in this community so much and I am so thankful for everyone who has been a part of this journey. I am sorry that it has panned out this way and if I have let you all down or disappointed you, but I owe it to you all, to be honest.

I completely understand if because of this some of you would rather not talk to me, but for those who can forgive me, I would love to stay connected and continue to plot or write privately or on my upcoming RPG if the human genre also tickles your fancy, if this is the case feel free to reach out to me through DM.”
